State-of-the-art warehousing, sub-assemblies, distribution and cross-docking facility

International freight management and supply chain company, LTG Logistics Transport Globally, opened the doors to its new warehouse and distribution center in Rosslyn in November 2012. The state-of-the-art facility offers customers a floor space of 6,000m<sup>2</sup>, storage space of about 9,000m<sup>2</sup>, 24/7 operations and a strong information technology platform, enhancing enterprise resource planning and integrating sophisticated warehouse management systems.

The company built the new warehouse and distribution center to cater for the changing environment within the automotive and manufacturing industry.

“The emphasis within the industry has moved to global purchasing, resulting in a higher demand on the local supply chain elements such as warehousing, value added services and distribution. Our modern warehouse and distribution hub is built to service these new needs and is ideally located in the industrial heart of Rosslyn near major automotive manufacturers, OEMs and the Automotive Supplier Park,” says Uhland Müller, Managing Director of LTG.

The facility is also unique in that it can be used for sub-assembly operations, re-packing as well as cross-docking functions. “Thorough planning has gone into the design of the new warehouse to ensure that it caters to the needs of our customers,” he adds.
